COUNCIL OF SENIOR CENTERS & SERVICES OF NYC, INC

Form 990 Part III

FY2006

ORGANIZATION'S PRIMARY EXEMPT PURPOSE

Council of Senior Centers and Services of New York City, Inc.'s (CSCS) mission is to promote the quality of life, independent living, productivity, and dignity of mature and older adults and their families principally in New York City.

Recognized as the premier, professional organization for New York City's senior service providers, CSCS advances the general welfare of senior citizens and the broader New York City community by:

- representing the concerns of agency sponsors of senior citizens services in the City of New York for the promotion and enhancement of senior citizen programs;
- stimulating the development of increased resources for senior citizens;
- representing sponsoring agencies in consultations with government, with voluntary agencies and the community-at-large;
- building cooperation among its members, and between them and government agencies;
- fostering and promoting standards for agencies engaged in providing social services for the elderly and providing a forum for the exchange of ideas and information among such agencies and other persons and organizations interested in the welfare of senior citizens, and to inform the public; and
- promoting the general welfare of senior citizens by all appropriate means and instrumentalities, exclusive of providing direct services for senior citizens.

Founded in 1979, CSCS currently represents 265 senior service organizations, serving over 300,000 older New Yorker through 328 senior centers plus housing, in-home and congregate daily meals, home care, case management, legal services, adult day services, mental health, recreational and social activities, transportation, escort and shopping services, counseling, benefit assistance and community outreach. CSCS' members range from individual community-based centers to large multi-service, citywide organizations serving seniors from every community district and from virtually every socioeconomic background that comprise the population of New York City.

LINE A STATEMENT OF PROGRAM SERVICE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

MEMBER SERVICES CSCS serves its member organizations thorough advocacy on the city, state and federal levels; training programs; programmatic initiatives, publications and more. Under its Management Assistance Program (MAP), CSCS provides training and technical assistance at no cost to its members. Group trainings address fiscal soundness, compliance with local government regulations, good governance, marketing and fundraising. CSCS trains and mentors New Directors through its New Directors Management Training Institute. In response to requests by members, CSCS provides customized technical assistance on program evaluation/assessment; capacity building; strategic planning; fiscal consultation; advisory council development; tax reporting and filing requirements; and fundraising. CSCS helps senior service agencies strengthen their infrastructure and increase their capacity to produce and manage high quality services to seniors.

CSCS' full-day Annual Conference on Aging offers general sessions and educational workshops with nationally recognized speakers on a wide range of timely topics plus a vendor exhibition show featuring products and services to enhance senior provider efficiencies and quality of life for seniors. Special initiatives and partnerships include:

Building Bridges to Business is a public-private partnership linking member senior centers with corporations to provide non-financial assistance to the centers to help support capacity building and provide stability to the community based, non-profit senior service organizations.

Cornell Institute for Transactional Research on Aging (CITRA), a research project that will connect members' needs to the development and implementation of research projects. CSCS member selected consensus conferences include Falls Prevention and Social Isolation.

CSCS ACCESS to BENE*FITS™ computer based screening program helps low income seniors to identify and access 40 city, state, federal and private benefits for which they may qualify.

CSCS/MedAssets Senior Nutrition Marketplace saves member agencies money through its online group purchasing organization offering discounts on food, food related products, office supplies, vans, furniture, communication services and more. Dollars saved can be redirected to other budgetary needs – to serve more meals, enhance programming, and repair the infrastructure.

Lawyers Alliance for New York Elder Services Initiative partnership with CSCS helps member agencies build capacity by providing free or low cost legal help with government contract negotiations, personnel and volunteer policies, governance and more.

New York City Family Caregiver Coalition (NYCFCC) is founded by and remains sponsored by CSCS. NYCFCC is dedicated to raising public awareness of the world of the “silent patients” – the caregivers and providing New York City with an organization that can share in the dialogue on caregiving through advocacy, education, and information.

TOTAL EXPENSE

ADVOCACY CSCS represents the concerns of agency sponsors of senior service organizations in New York City for the promotion and enhancement of senior citizens programs. It promotes the general welfare of older New Yorkers by building cooperation between government and member agencies. CSCS public policy efforts seek to assure that city funds are made available so as to avoid serious threats to the well-being of older New Yorkers. CSCS focuses on issues of the aging services network including: funding to provide critical services such as meals and transportation necessary to deliver meals; weekend congregate meals; English as a Second Language; programs assisting seniors in getting benefits and more. CSCS maintains a leadership role in the housing needs of older people, working on the state and local levels to see affordable assisted living become a reality.

The Public Policy Department is enhanced by the work of the CSCS Legal Advocate Fellow, a two-year position awarded to an outstanding law school graduate with an interest in the field of public interest law.
