Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments (See the instructions.)

Form 990 is available for public inspection and, for some people, serves as the primary or sole source of information about a particular organization. How the public perceives an organization in such cases may be determined by the information presented on its return Therefore, please make sure the return is complete and accurate and fully describes, in Part III, the organization's programs and accomplishments

What is the organization's primary exempt purpose? Freserve plants, animals, and natural communities by protecting the lands and waters they need

Program Service Expenses

(Required for 501(c)(3) and (4) orgs , and 4947(a)(1) trusts, but optional for others)

- All organizations must describe their exempt purpose achievements in a clear and concise manner. State the number of clients served, publications issued, etc Discuss achievements that are not measurable (Section 501(c)(3) and (4) organizations and 4947(a)(1) nonexempt charitable trusts must also enter the amount of grants and allocations to others)
 - Land Conservation Update on Program Accomplishments from Nature Conservancy President and CEO Steve McCormick We are very proud of what we accomplished this past year Among other things, it was the first year that our total revenues exceeded $1 billion. But a focus on the numbers can obscure the scope, depth and impact of our conservation achievements in 2006. What is more important is how that money produced outstanding conservation results using increasingly effective approaches. A handful of examples shed light on what we achieved this year. The Nature Conservancy was instrumental in persuading the Global Environment Facility (GEF), a creation of the World Bank, to earmark $400 million to strengthen national park systems in developing nations Our team also convinced the GEF to set aside $10 million to help 35 developing nations conduct scientific assessments of their biodiversity resources, based on our Conservation by Design methodology. The Conservancy became the first private organization to work with fishermen and government regulators to purchase federal trawling permits and boats for conservation purposes This trawler buyout off the coast of central California will help aid the recovery of depleted fish and other marine species in a 3 8-million-acre swath of ocean habitat And it will help turn a struggling commercial fishery into a more sustainable economic enterprise We helped achieve a major victory for tropical forest conservation by facilitating one of the largest-ever debt-fornature swaps, a vehicle through which the United States will cancel debt owed to it by the biodiversity-rich, but resource-poor, nation of Guatemala in return for the Guatemalan government committing $24 4 million for protection of its tropical forests Similarly, Conservancy experience and resources helped leverage conservation commitments by island nations in Micronesia to protect more than 200,000 square miles of marine areasan area larger than the state of Florida These efforts were nurtured by a $3 million pledge by the Conservancy that was matched by Conservation International As a result of this "Micronesia Challenge," island leaders will protect 20 percent of their terrestrial and 30 percent of their marine resources by 2020 And in an unprecedented coordination among 10 of our state programs, we completed our largest-ever land purchase, a complex 212,000-acre acquisition from International Paper that will conserve significant areas of freshwater, forest and marine habitat in the United States While advancing this on-the-ground progress, we also designed a 10-year conservation goal that will be rolled out in the coming year. The 2015 Goal, as it's called, is derived from an extensive analysis of the world's major habitat types by our staff scientists, working in collaboration with scientists from around the world. The goal commits us in the next 10 years to roughly doubling the conservation successes we have achieved in the past 50 Such an ambitious undertaking will demand that we continue to develop the kind of high-impact strategies described above Setting our sights on this global goal has also increased our commitment to peoplelocal people, indigenous people and whole communities that rely on the world's oceans, forests, grasslands and rivers to sustain them. Our experiences are proving that it is these peoplethose closest to the land and waterwho are eagerly taking the steps to find solutions that balance the needs of people with nature One of the hallmarks of The Nature Conservancy is its commitment to continuous improvement. We take pride in our accomplishments, but we won't rest on our laurels. While we are proud of what we achieved this past year, we intend to do better next yearand in all the years that follow Background information on The Nature Conservancy Our Mission - The mission of The Nature Conservancy is to preserve the plants, animals and natural communities that represent the diversity of life on Earth by protecting the lands and waters they need to survive Why We're Successful - We work to conserve the Earth's ecologically important lands and waters in local places across all 50 U S states and in more than 30 other countries around the world We develop, analyze and use the best available science to prioritize our global conservation work and to ensure we implement the right strategies in the right places. We achieve tangible, lasting and measurable conservation results at scales that matter and in ways that will endure. We create innovative conservation solutions that benefit nature and enhance the well-being of people who depend on vital natural resources for their lives and livelihoods We use our creativity, diplomacy, global reach and proven experience to tackle some of the world's most complex conservation challenges We work respectfully and collaboratively with all sectors of society to achieve meaningful conservation results. By showing that tangible, large-scale conservation results can be delivered, we provide hope that the Earth's special places can be restored and preserved for future generations Accountability - The Nature Conservancy is highly rated by charity watchdog organizations The Nature Conservancy meets all of the Better Business Bureau (BBB) Wise Giving Alliance Standards for Charity Accountability The American Institute of Philanthropy has awarded The Nature Conservancy an "A-" rating The Nature Conservancy's receives a four-star rating from Charity Navigator, the organization's highest rating For the second consecutive year, The Nature Conservancy rates as the most trusted organization among 13 leading non-profit organizations, think tanks and associations in a recent poll by Harris Interactive, as reported by The Chronicle of Philanthropy Values - Integrity Beyond Reproach - We will meet the highest ethical and professional standards in all of our organizational endeavors and, in doing so, we hold ourselves accountable to our mission and to the public Respect for People, Communities, and Cultures - Enduring conservation success depends on the active involvement of people and partners whose lives and livelihoods are linked to the natural systems we seek to conserve. We respect the needs, values and traditions of local communities and cultures, and we forge relationships based on mutual benefit and trust. Commitment to Diversity - We recognize that biological diversity conservation is best advanced by the leadership and contributions of men and women of diverse backgrounds, beliefs and cultures. We will recruit and mentor staff to create an inclusive organization that reflects our global character One Conservancy - Our strength and vitality lie in being one organization working together in local places and across borders to achieve our global mission. We value the collective and collaborative efforts that are so essential to our success Tangible, Lasting Results - Our mission of preserving biological diversity guides everything we do We use the best available science, a creative spirit, and a nonconfrontational approach to craft innovative solutions to complex conservation problems at scales that matter and in ways that will endure (0 00 N/A)

Former Officers, Directors and Key Employees That Received Compensation or Other Benefits	Form 990, Part V-B	With the exception of Darryl W Varnado, all individuals listed are current full time employees of the Nature Conservancy who were reported as Key Employees in prior years. Due to changes in their job responsibilities and/or management restructuring, these individuals are no longer considered Key Employees as defined by the Internal Revenue Code. As disclosed on Part V-A, the Nature Conservancy reports all compensation on a calendar year 2005 basis. For tax years prior to 2005, the Nature Conservancy reported all compensation amounts on a fiscal year basis. Due to this revised reporting methodology, certain amounts reported for Darryl W Varnado, former Managing Director of Human Resources, on our 2004 and 2005 Forms 990 are duplicative.

Summary of Substantive Changes to Policies and Procedures	Form 990, Part VI, Line 77	During the tax year, no changes were made to The Nature Conservancy's organizing documents. As a result, Part VI, Line 77 is marked No. However, changes were made to several of The Nature Conservancy's Standard Operating Procedures and, in the interest of increased disclosure, these changes are described below. (1) Tangible Business Property Owned by the Conservancy (New, adopted 10/05) The Conservancy's standard operating procedure sets parameters for personal use of TNC-owned business equipment, including cell phones and other wireless devices, computers, office telephones, fax machines and copiers, tools, vehicles and boats, and equipment provided for home offices. The procedure provides that personal use of up to 10% of total annual use of such equipment is allow able and will not have tax consequences for employees, provided, however, that any personal use of Conservancy-owned vehicles and boats is taxable. Personal use in excess of these thresholds must be reported and included in an employee's taxable income. This procedure ensures that TNC is in compliance with laws and regulations governing taxable benefits for employees. (2) Real Property - Housing and Grazing Uses (New, adopted 10/05). This new procedure describes the conditions under which Conservancy employees and volunteers may live in or temporarily occupy housing on property owned by the Conservancy, with specific emphasis on whether the value of the house is treated as taxable income. In the very rare instance where the presence of an employee or volunteer on Conservancy-owned property is required and therefore a condition of employment or the volunteer position, the value of the housing may be excluded from the occupant's income. The procedure also addresses circumstances in which grazing of personal livestock on Conservancy property is permitted. (3) Conservation Easements (Revised 10/05). The existing Standard Operating Procedure on Conservation Easements was revised to clarify that the Conservancy gives preference to conservation easements Compensation of Five Highest Paid Employees Other Than Officers Directors and Trustees	Schedule A, Part I	As disclosed on Form 990, Part V, the Nature Conservancy reports all compensation on a calendar year 2005 basis. For tax years prior to 2005, the Nature Conservancy reported all compensation amounts on a fiscal year basis. Due to this revised reporting methodology, certain amounts reported for Darryl W Varnado, Joseph J. Keenan and David M. Cleary in 2004 and 2005 are duplicative. Expense Account and Other Allow ances consist of Group Term Life for all individuals listed. The amounts for Joseph Keenan and David M. Cleary also include expatriation allow ances for the current year as well as other reimbursements and imputed income related to their international assignments for the years 2002, 2003 and 2004. The amounts for Mark A. E. Burget also include reimbursements for expenses related to his work related relocation. The amounts for Kent Wommack also include expatriation allow ances for the current year for items such as host country income taxes, relocation expenses, etc.

ldentifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Controlled Corporate Entities	Form 990, Part VI, Line 80b	The Nature Conservancy is authorized to do business in all fifty states. The Nature Conservancy conducts business under a number of names (such as Chapters, Field Offices, Regional Offices, Programs, and other similar descriptions) which are separate business units that are part of the District of Columbia corporation, the parent corporation. All are exempt from Federal income tax under the organization's Internal Revenue Service Exempt Letter. These eight controlled corporate entities have been established for business and legal reasons which assist the Conservancy in accomplishing its corporate goals in various states in the United States. For example, several of these entities were established to own and manage land where such a step was made necessary to comply with state law. Each of these organizations has been incorporated as a charitable organization with goals and objectives identical or quite similar to those of the Nature Conservancy. All of their activities are carried out in the name of the Nature Conservancy. These eight controlled corporate entities are completely under the control of the parent corporation.

ldentifier	Return Reference	Explanation
Current Officers, Directors and Key Employees	Form 990, Part V-A	In order to improve our compensation reporting and consistent with IRS guidelines, all compensation amounts are reported on a 2005 calendar year basis. For tax years prior to 2005, the Nature Conservancy reported all compensation amounts on a fiscal year basis.

Statement: The Nature Conservancy is a conservation organization that acquires and protects environmentally significant land, conducts scientific research, and educates the public about the importance of conservation. In support of this mission, The Nature Conservancy devoted less than 0.65% of its exempt purpose expenditures to lobbying on legislation during fiscal year 2006. The Nature Conservancy does not participate in partisan political activity on behalf of candidates for public office. The Nature Conservancy engaged in limited advocacy activities at the federal, state, local, and international levels. At the federal level, The Nature Conservancy attempted to influence policy in the following major issue areas: seeking increased appropriations for federal land and water management agencies (Department of Interior, Department of Agriculture, Department of Defense, Council on Environmental Quality, Army Corp of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation, Office of Management and Budget, and National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration); strengthening natural resource conservation laws and policies, including the Transportation Equity Act: A Legacy for Users, Water Resources Development Act, Farm Bill, Endangered Species Act, Estuary Restoration Act, and American Outdoors Act; securing federal tax incentives for conservation; and other related issues. At the state level, The Nature Conservancy through its state chapters participated in advocacy activities relating to: funding for state land acquisition and stewardship programs, ballot measures to support open space conservation, state tax credits to encourage conservation activities, state land use reform, invasive species legislation, state forest health legislation, water resources development, purchase of development rights and easement programs, and other related issues. At the local level, The Nature Conservancy supported regional conservation programs and several open space bond measures. At the international level, The Nature Conservancy expressed views on policies addressing climate change, natural forest restoration and funding for international conservation programs (Neotropical Migratory Bird Conservation Improvement Act, Foreign Affairs Authorization Act, US Forest Service international appropriations, and Climate Stewardship Act), and other related issues. In support of these policy objectives, a small number of Nature Conservancy employees and volunteers spent time communicating directly with legislative officials and their staff and sending emails, mailings and newsletters to organization members and members of the general public. A tiny fraction of the thousands of hours volunteers donated to The Nature Conservancy involved attempts to influence legislation. The organization made a limited number of grants to other organizations to support specific legislative initiatives, sponsored media advertisements, and participated in lobbying events and coalition meetings.

Line Number	Explanation
2a	Ms. Christine M. Scott (TNC Board Member): Acceptance of a donation of stock from Jim Scott, who is the spouse of TNC Board Member, Christine M. Scott, (the donation of stock is in an entity controlled by Jim Scott and the Scott Family) and the subsequent sale of the stock at fair market value to First Interstate Bank System, Inc., a closely-held, but publicly regulated corporation in which members of the Scott Family have significant ownership interests (Jim Scott is the Vice President). Ms. Scott, in her role as a TNC Board Member, had no involvement in this transaction.

Line Number	Explanation
2d	See Form 990 Part V

2c	Mr. Roberto Hernandez-Ramirez (TNC Board member) is the Chairman of Banco Nacional de Mexico (Banamex). Banamex is one of the largest Mexican banks which has many locations throughout Mexico as well as internet banking. Banamex entered into the following transaction with The Nature Conservancy: The Nature Conservancy's Mexico program has used Banamex to provide its banking services for over eight years. These bank accounts were established long before Mr. Hernandez joined the Board. Currently, the Conservancy has three bank accounts (Mexico City, Merida, and Hermosillo). Banamex offers competitive banking prices and the cost for the Conservancy to change banks would be time consuming and expensive. Ms. Shirley Young (TNC Board Member): The Nature Conservancy signed a one year Master Subscription Agreement with Salesforce.com on March 15, 2005. The application will be used to implement the California Capital Planning Tool (a web-based database used to store the multiple components of a project/deal lifecycle involved in a land transaction). Ms. Young was appointed to the Salesforce.com Board on October 25, 2005. Neither Mr. Hernandez-Ramirez nor Ms. Young, in their roles as TNC Board Members, had any involvement in these transactions.
