Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments (See the instructions.)

Form 990 is available for public inspection and, for some people, serves as the primary or sole source of information about a particular organization. How the public perceives an organization in such cases may be determined by the information presented on its return Therefore, please make sure the return is complete and accurate and fully describes, in Part III, the organization's programs and accomplishments

What is the organization's primary exempt purpose? F Preserve plants, animals, and natural communities by protecting the lands and waters they need to survive

Program Service Expenses

Required for 501(c)(3) and (4) orgs , and 4947(a)(1) trusts, but optional for others)

All organizations must describe their exempt purpose achievements in a clear and concise manner State the number of clients served, publications issued, etc Discuss achievements that are not measurable (Section 501(c)(3) and (4) organizations and 4947(a)(1) nonexempt charitable trusts must also enter the amount of grants and allocations to others)

Natural Resources Conservation & Protection, Gener Update on program accomplishments from Nature Conservancy President and CEO Mark Tercek As the new President and CEO of The Nature Conservancy, I am proud of what we accomplished this past year Among other things, we surpassed $1 billion in revenue, a trend that began in FY06 But what is more important are the conservation results that resulted from that level of financing The 12 examples below are just some of our most inspiring conservation achievements from this past year More information on our achievements can be found on our Web site at www nature org. Crown of the Continent, Montana The Conservancy partnered with the Trust for Public Land to acquire more than 320,000 forested acres in western Montana from Plum Creek Timber Company for $510 million, making it one of the most significant conservation sales in history. Over the past five years, the Conservancy has been a leading force in structuring innovative deals to prevent the development of working forests in the U S , totaling 3 5 million acres and more than $1 5 billion Garcia River Forest, California The Garcia River Forest near Mendocino became one of the first projects to be certified as a source of carbon credits by the most rigorous set of standards worldwide The Nature Conservancy, as easement holder, and the Conservation Fund, as owner of the nearly 24,000 redwood acres, have teamed to establish and manage this demonstration site for the rapidly developing domestic carbon market Over the past decade, the Conservancy has emerged as a global leader in developing such demonstration projects from Bolivia to China and Papua New Guinea Central Australia A vast wilderness at the intersection of three of Australia's central deserts and the convergence of three desert rivers was acquired by the Australian Wildlife Conservancy with 50% funding from The Nature Conservancy The new 1 7 million-acre Kalamurnia Sanctuary is a crucial missing piece in a mosaic of contiguous conservation areas larger than the island of Tasmania. The Nature Conservancy has supported the acquisition of nearly 3 million acres by likeminded Australian organizations in the past year alone Cloud Forests, Bolivia Two new municipal protected areas and the first indigenous municipal protected area in South America were created to preserve more than 600,000 acres of Bolivian cloud forests PROMETA, a Bolivian conservation organization, helped establish the parks by applying tools and know-how they acquired while being supported by Parks in Peril--a joint 17-year partnership between the Conservancy and the U.S. Agency for International Development. Besides shifting the paradigm for advancing international conservation, the Parks in Peril program secured the lasting protection of 45 parks and reserves covering 44 8 million acres in 18 countries across Latin America Florida Forever Conservancy leadership was instrumental in building a coalition of 160 organizations in support of Florida Forever, the state's commitment of $3 billion for land conservation over the next 10 years. This third reauthorization already has protected some two million critical acres. Beginning in 1990 the Conservancy collaborated with the state to develop multi-year state funding for land protection as growth threatened Florida's natural heritage The Florida model has inspired similar Conservancy-state partnerships in other high-growth states like Colorado and California Caribbean Islands A coalition of Caribbean Island nations announced bold commitments to conserve more than 20% of their land and marine habitats by 2020, and The Nature Conservancy pledged an initial $20 million in support. The Conservancy has been instrumental in developing and promoting these "island challenge" initiatives including the Micronesia Challenge and Coral Triangle Initiativewhereby island governments with limited internal resources agree to dramatically expand conservation with investment from development agencies and governments in the developed world. Water Funds, South America The Quito Water Fund, a milestone project established with The Nature Conservancy, taps contributions from water users to perpetually fund conservation of the forestlands that hold freshwater supplies for the 2 million citizens of Ecuador's capital. This year the Conservancy helped replicate the successful model in watersheds that supply water to So Paulo, Brazil, Bogat, Colombia and three more cities in Ecuador These funds will generate millions for dedicated watershed conservation. A water fund for Lima, Peru is planned for the coming year Wetland Restoration Klamath Basin, Oregon Four half-mile levees were dynamited to flood five square-miles of reclaimed farmland in Oregon's Klamath Basin. The goal is to improve water quality and supply nursery habitat for endangered fish species Penobscot River, Maine In the East, the Conservancy is part of a landmark agreement to buy, remove and bypass three hydroelectric dams to restore health, habitat and livelihoods to Maine's Penobscot River These U.S. examples mirror efforts the Conservancy is pursuing to both mitigate hydropower development and guide management of dams to mimic natural processes on China's Yangtze and Africa's Zambezi Rivers Atlantic Forest, Brazil The Nature Conservancy launched the Plant a Billion Trees Campaign (www.plantabillion.org) to reforest Brazil's Atlantic Forest, which has been reduced to just 7% of its original range Working with the United Nations Environment Programme, Brazilian agencies and local communities, the campaign has also attracted corporate and media sponsorship that enables people around the world to participate online Besides providing wildlife habitat and protecting water supplies, this reforestation will remove 10 million tons of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere every year, the equivalent of taking 2 million cars offthe road China-US timber agreement China and the United States the largest importers of wood and woodbased products in the world committed to work together to protect forests by excluding illegal and unsustainably harvested timber from supplier countries. The Conservancy aided the agreement by providing counsel and leading learning exchanges for Chinese government officials to both Indonesia and the United States The agreement, which will give consumers greater access to products made only from certified legal and sustainably sourced wood, could influence forest conservation around the world Kaua'i, Hawai'i The Conservancy partnered with a private landowner to establish its first major preserve on Kaua'i and the third largest private nature preserve in the state. The 7,050-acre parcel spanning Kauai's spectacular Wainiha Valley includes portions of the famed Alaka'ı Wılderness and Mount Waı'ale'ale, one of the wettest areas on Earth The area ıs the ısland's primary source of water and a rich mosaic of rare natural communities montane bogs, freshwater streams and one of the best examples of native lowland wet forest in the state. The achievements noted above and the many others from across the globe have furthered our efforts toward the 2015 Goalthe effective conservation of 10 percent of every major habitat type on earth To reach this goal, the Conservancy has launched the Campaign for a Sustainable Planet, the largest conservation campaign in history. The Campaign for a Sustainable Planet is a worldwide call-to-action to protect Earth's natural resources for future generations. The Campaign will enable the Conservancy to achieve significant, global conservation results in each of the world's major habitat types forests, oceans and coasts, lakes and rivers, grasslands, and deserts and aridlands. The Campaign will also equip the Conservancy to tackle global threats to the Earth's sustainability, such as climate change As always, the Conservancy will use a science-based approach to determine where to work, what to conserve, and what trategies to employ. The Conservancy cannot achieve this goal alone. It will require partnering wi governments, businesses, non-profits, communities and individuals. The Conservancy will also work closely with communities to protect the lands and waters they rely on for their daily survival. The significant achievements made in the past year are just the beginning. With conservation becoming a major part of public discourse, the Conservancy is set to expand and accelerate conservation on a global scale (2728993 Total Acres Protected)

Controlled Corporate Entities	Form 990, Part VI, Line 80b	The Nature Conservancy is authorized to do business in all fifty states. The Nature Conser vancy conducts business under a number of names (such as Chapters, Field Offices, Regional Offices, Programs and other similar descriptions) which are separate business units that are part of the District of Columbia corporation, the parent corporation. All are exempt from Federal income taxation under the organization's Internal Revenue Service Exemption. Letter These four controlled corporate entities have been established for business and legal reasons which assist the Conservancy in accomplishing its corporate goals in various states in the United States. For example, several of these entities were established to own and manage land where such a step was made necessary to comply with state law. Each of these organizations has been incorporated as a charitable organization with goals and objectives identical or quite similar to those of the Nature Conservancy. All of their activities are carried out in the name of the Nature Conservancy. These four controlled corporate entities are completely under the control of the parent corporation.

Summary of Substantive Changes to Policies and Procedures	Form 990, Part VI, Line 77	While there were no changes to the Nature Conservancy's organizing documents during the taix year, there were substantive changes made to six of the Nature Conservancy's Policies and Standard Operating Procedures in the interest of full disclosure, these changes are described below. (1) Solicitation and Administration of Pledges (new Standard Operating Procedure replacing the "PledgeTracking and Reporting SOP). This new Standard Operating Procedure describes the range of philanthropy and finance team members required to ensure that the Conservancy adequately solicits and administers pledges and provides a detailed chart that assigns responsibility and accountability for each step of the fundraising solicitation and pledge recording process to specific team members. (2) Records Management Policy (new policy). This new policy requires that all employees retain business records for specific ed periods of time and destroy them on a specified schedule, as will be more specifically delineated in a revised Standard Operating Procedure. (3)Real Estate Transfers to Government (policy revised October 2007, formerly named Recovery of Costs in Real Estate Transfers to Government, This policy provides that in real estate sales to the government, the Nature Conservancy may recover no ment the government-approved fair market value and any government-approved costs. The former policy limited recovery to TNC's costs. If the government's approved purchase price exceeds the price paid by TNC to acquire the real estate, the government's purchase price must be approved by TNC. The required level of approval is the same level of approval as required for the Operating Unit's acquisition of the prope erty under the operative Real Estate Delegation Authority. OU Directors in their discretion may always elect to accept less than the government, and real estate acquired by the Conservancy with government grants and awards. (4)Board of Directors Expense Reimbursement (established August 2007) – Although members of the Board of directors a easements over 2,146,953.31 acres in 49 U.S. states and the countries of Guatemala and Costa Rica. 2. During the tax year, the Nature Conservancy acquired 211 easements over 286,830.01 acres. 3. During the tax year 4 easements were modified. Easements modified were: (1) Blackfoot River Corridor (47.86 acres) in order to add 6.86 acres to the original easement and convey approximately one acre, subject to the original easement, to a state agency for puclic access purposes; (2) Jones Point (940 acres) in order to further restrict and extinguish existing development sites; (3) Greenvile Watershed (29,014.50 acres) in order release .29 acres and prevent further damage to the area from a road encroachment; and (4) Upper Combahee River (1,800.04 acres) in order to increase the conservation restrictions on the property. During the tax year 11 easements were transferred or sold - all to qualified organizations as defined in IRC Sec. 170(h)(3) and the related regulations and all as required by and consistent with the conservation action plan for the properties. Easements transferred or sold were: (1) Lower Ouachita Terraces (15,922.89 acres to the AR Game and Fish Commission); (2) Lower Ouachita Terraces (15,922.89 acres to the AR Natural Heritage Commission); (3) IP-Goodwood GA/USMC Buffer (10,687.28 acres to the US Marine Corps); (4) Rodenbeck Nature Preserve (9.0 acres to the ACRES Land Trust); (5) Northern Great Lakes Forest, UP (36,676 acres to the MI Department of Natural Resources); (6) Manitou (605.76 acres to the MN Department of Natural Resources); (7) Ball Ranch (12,140.76 acres to the US Bureau of Land Management); (8) Northern Cumberlands Lyme Heartwood Forestland Emory (286.9 acres to the TN Department of Environment and Conservation); (9) Barton Creek Conservation Easement (1,300.58 acres to the Hill Country Conservancy); (10) Hill Country SNA Historic Conservation Easement (to the City of San Antonio, TX); (11) Kanarra Mountain (561.13 acres to the UT Department of Natural Resources. During the tax year, 1 easement was terminated. As a result of litigation the Nature Conservancy released its easement and was granted a new easement over 75% of the original 3,976.83 acres of the Cheyenne River Canyons. 4. The Nature Conservancy held 1,014 easements on land containing buildings and structures, 4 easements encumbering golf courses or portions thereof, 242 easements within or adjacent to residential developments and housing subdivisions and 225 easements that were acquired in transactions that could be described under Notice 2004-41. Please note that 150 of these 225 easements were acquired in transactions that pre-date the issuance of Notice 2004-41; 75 of these 225 easements were acquired in transactions that post-date the notice. However, the Conservancy believes that these 75 easements fully comply with the requirements of the Notice. 5. During the tax year the Nature Conservancy monitored by Physical inspection or other means 1,642 easements over 1,635,489 acres. In accordanc ewith TNC SOP regarding the requirements for monitoring conservation easements, the balance of the easements held by TNC will be monitored on a time schedule that will permit monitoring to be completed in a subsequent tax year. 6. During the tax year the Nature Conservancy incurred $823,330 in expenses monitoring and enforcing its new existing easements. The Nature Conservancy also spent 25,512 hours of paid staff time and untold hours of volunteer time in monitoring and enforcing new and existing easements. Since August 17, 2006, the Nature Conservancy has not acquired any easements on buildings and structures that were certified historic strucutes as described in IRC Sec. 170(h)(4)(B).

Statement: 1. As of July 1, 2007 the Nature Conservancy held 1,841

Statement: The lobbying work of The Nature Conservancy advances the exempt purpose mission focusing particularly on the 2015 goal. The 2015 goal is derived from an extensive analysis of the world's major habitat types by our staff scientists, working in collaboration with scientists from around the world. Those habitats are: forests, grasslands, and lands, fresh water and marine. The Nature Conservancy devoted less than .83% of its exempt purpose expenditures to attempt to influence legislation during Fiscal Year 2008. In preservation of habitat, TNC attempted to influence legislation at the federal, state and local level. U.S. federal legislation included Land and Water Conservation Fund, National Landscape Conservation System Act, Refuge Ecology Protection, Assistance, and Immediate Response Act, Tropic Forest Conservation Act to include forests, coral reefs and coastal marine areas, Department of Defense range and environmental protection initiatives, appropriations for international conservation, and environmental quality incentives in the Farm and Energy Security Act of 2007 (FESA). State legislation was advocated to provide sufficient, long term funding for habitat and land preservation trusts and similar investment, easement incentives for conservation or management mechanisms in states such as Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Maine (ballot measure), Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin. TNC supported a ballot measure to amend a regulatory takings law that weakened legal protections for water quality and wildlife preservation in Oregon and supported a challenge to a local takings measure in Alaska. In China, some local legislative efforts were made to establish protected areas. For forest conservation, TNC supported funding for wildlife fire management and forestry management in federal legislation, such as the Healthy Forest Reserve Program in FESA, Forest Legacy Program, and Forest Landscape Restoration Act of 2008 and in places such Illinois, Idaho, Minnesota, Northern Great Lakes Forest (Michigan), Big Woods (Virginia), Rocky Mountain Front (Montana), Ossippe Pine Barrens (New Hampshire), Albany Pine Bush (New York), Pennsylvania, and Tapash Forest (Washington). For grasslands protections, TNC advocated for the in Grasslands Reserve Program under the FESA and other means to protect areas in U.S. where grasslands are threatened such as Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, and Oklahoma. For fresh water, TNC worked on river and watershed acquisition and protections by U.S. and state governments, including the estuary restoration provisions of the Water Resources Development Act, the Clean Water Restoration Act, water quality and wetland protections in FESA, dam management under the SECURE Water Act, and various pieces of state legislation for protection in places like Cahaba River, Coconino Plateau watershed, Fossil Creek, Colorado River, Missouri River, Blackbird Creek, Everglades, Mississippi River, Atchafalaya Basin, Great Lakes, Yellowstone River, Hudson River, Virgin River and the southern region where a drought threatened water quality and supplies. For marine preservation, TNC supported legislation such as the Coastal Zone Enhancement Restoration Act, Coastal and Estuarine Land Protection Act, Coral Reef Conservation Amendments Act, climate change adaptation policy and funding for coastal waters, New Hampshire's Shoreland Protection Act, New York's sea grass and shellfish restoration efforts, Washington's Puget Sound, California's Bay Delta Conservation Plan, and Australian marine planning processes. In preservation of species, TNC supported the eradication of feral pigs on Santa Cruz Island in California, reintroduction of black-footed ferrets in Kansas, controlled ballast water, aquatic invasive species prevention legislation, Early Plant and Pest Detection and Surveillance Improvement Act, habitat restoration, and Nonnative Wildlife Invasion Prevention Act. For energy conservation, TNC supported various federal and state legislative proposals to reduce carbon emissions that have harmful effects on habitats, to adopt alternative energy, such as wind energy and biomass fuels, with mitigation tools to minimize environmental impacts, and to advocate for forest preservation as an effective carbon emissions control through federal and state legislation. Volunteer participation in influencing legislation was an insignificant portion of total volunteer efforts.

2a	Ms. Christine M. Scott (TNC Board Member): Acceptance of a donation of stock from Jim Scott, who is the spouse of TNC Board Member, Christine M. Scott (the donation of stock is from an entity controlled by Jim Scott and the Scott Family) and the subsequent sale of the stock to First Interstate Bank System, Inc., a closely-held, but public regulated corporation in which members of the Scott family have significant ownership interests (Jim Scott is the Vice President). Ms. Scott, in her role as a TNC Board Member, had no involvement in the transaction.
2c	Mr. Roberto Hernandez-Ramirez (TNC Board Member) is the Chairman of Banco Nacional de Mexico (Banamex). Banamex is one of the largest Mexican banks which has many locations throughout Mexico as well as internet banking. Banamex entered into the following transaction with the Nature Conservancy: The Nature Conservancy's Mexico program has used Banamex to provide its banking services for over nine years. These bank accounts were established long before Mr. Hernandez-Ramirez joined the Board. Currently, the Conservancy has three bank accounts (Mexico City, Merida, and Hermosillo). Banamex offers competitive banking prices and the cost for the Conservancy to change banks would be time consuming and expensive.
