   Environmental Education -- Our youth education programs use hands-on exploration of our diverse local ecosystems to engage children. Our elementary school program, Finding Urban Nature (FUN), served students in fourth and fifth grade classrooms at 11 Seattle public Schools. The students work with parent and community volunteers outside their schoolyards, using eight curriculum units throughout the school year. Our high school program, BirdWatch, engages teens through field training, service projects, and education about birds and conservation issues. Members participated in local field trips, community service projects, monthly meetings, and bird banding demonstrations. Our summer Nature Camp served more than 400 youth in 1st-9th grade. Themed, week-long sessions covered topics that included ocean, forest, wetland, and micro ecosystems.

We pressed the state Department of Natural Resources to move forward with development and implementation of a long-term conservation strategy for protecting murrelets on state land. We worked with state and federal agencies on the recovery plan for Northern Spotted Owl, with both regulatory and voluntary measures to implement those measures. We promoted urban bird habitat and the importance of a healthy.

These programs lead by our expert birders, help participants get the most out of their experience, observing and learning about many different bird species and habitats. We also provided community engagement opportunities for hundreds of volunteers to participate in a wide range of activities, from habitat restoration projects to providing environmental education to kids at community centers and libraries in Seattle. Supplemental Information to Form 990

Complete to provide information for responses to specific questions on Form 990 or to provide any additional information.

Attach to Form 990.

Name of the organization: SEATTLE AUDUBON SOCIETY

Employer identification number: 91-6009716

Pt VI-A, Line 6: Seattle Audubon has approximately 5,000 current members.

Any person interested in the purposes of the society is eligible for membership. Payment of dues (currently $30 per year) is required to enjoy the rights and privileges of membership in the organization.

Pt VI-A, Line 7a: Seattle Audubon members elect the officers of the organization (President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) at the annual meeting each year.

Pt VI-B, Line 11A: The staff prepares a draft of the Form 990 and circulates it to members of the Finance Committee, which reviews the Form 990 and who then recommend any changes they feel appropriate.

Staff makes any revisions, as appropriate, to the draft and then circulates a final version of the Form 990 to all Board members. Board members have one week to review the Form 990, ask questions and recommend any changes they may feel appropriate.

The Form 990 is then finalized and submitted to the IRS.

Pt VI-B, Line 12c: All officers, directors and key employees of the organization are provided a copy of the Conflict of Interest policy each year and are required to complete and sign an annual disclosure statement regarding any potential or actual conflicts. These disclosure statements are reviewed by the President and by the Executive Director to ensure compliance with the policy.

Pt VI-B, Line 15: The compensation for the Executive Director was determined by the Board President, in consultation with members of the Executive Committee and with final approval by the full Board of Directors. The process included a review of data on comparable positions at other non-profit organizations of similar sizes and with similar missions. These data included wage and benefit surveys prepared by the United Way of King County and GuideStar.

Pt VI-C. Line 19 Seattle Audubon makes all of its governing documents, conflict of interest policy and financial statements available to the public upon request. A summary of our annual financial statement is printed in our newsletter each year; this newsletter is mailed to all current members of the organization as well as provided to local libraries and representatives of the local media. This information is also posted on our organization's website.

Part III, Line 4d Nature Shop -- Where "profits are for the birds" - continued to provide service to our members and the public on all things bird related. More than 60 regular volunteers help connect people with birds and nature, answering questions, registering individuals for field trips and classes, and selling bird related items ranging from feeders and seed to binoculars to guide books. We also offer readings and signings by local authors as well as serve as a community gathering spot for birders from across the region.

Part VI-C. Line 15b No officers of the organization received compensation. No employees of the organization met the $150,000 reportable compensation test to qualify as a "key employee."
