Form 990, Part VI, Line 6 - Explanation of Classes of Members or Shareholder

the Organization invites volunteers to assist in its charitable functions of conserving, restoring and utilizing community historical facilities. To test the dedication, and motivation of volunteers, along with raising money to defray volunteer communications costs, and to use for other chartered purposes, it asks for modest membership dues from these volunteers.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 7a - How Members or Shareholders Elect Governing Body

The volunteer members annually elect officers of the Organization to manage and operate its activities.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11 - Form 990 Review Process

A copy of Form 990 is available to all members of the governing body immediately upon its completion, but in many cases the instrument isn't reviewed by some members of that body until later. In the past there has been no amendments nor corrections to the filing of the Form, so immediate examination by all the members of the governing body is not required.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Explanation of Monitoring and Enforcement of Conflicts

Overall, the Organization deals with the public rather than entities which could be construed to have a conflict of interest risk. Nonetheless, all activities which could trigger a relationship conflict are examined and when they should exist, the conflict is avoided by replacing the contact member by one without a conflict.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 19 - Other Organization Documents Publicly Available

All the Organization's documents are open to public scrutiny. Longtime members, local government officials, local government employees and the interested general public all have familiarity with the Organization, its functions and accomplishments, and as such have considerable opportunity to access documents, policies and financial information in which they have interest or questions.
