Plutonomy Program As IFG intensifies its "inside" work to change institutions, we will also support "outside" efforts to build the power of peoples' movements. Increasingly, a few, ultra wealthy plutocrats have lately made enormous strides toward dominating global governance, finance and national democracies [now known as "the 1% vs the 99%"], while actively undermining traditional democratic expressions. These include such concerns as collective bargaining rights, clean air protections, social services and safety nets. The wealth of these individuals is so great that we are beginning to see a kind of global neo-feudalism evolving, where they themselves become the pivotal arbiters and factors shaping economies, politics, media, and many other elements of once democratic systems. The laws and regulations that have permitted such wealth concentration have themselves been shaped by the very special interests that benefit the most, while the public treasury is almost ignored. IFG works to bring these issues to the table, and to call attention to the most salient and shocking examples of ultra-concentrated wealth and the political influence it garners, while also seeking to organize resistance and change in these areas.
