CRS provided workshops addressing science and engineering teaching practices, content, curriculum, and new science standards. Together, the teachers we serve educate over 30,000 students, mainly in high-need, under-resourced urban schools. Through our Science Super Star Challenge, we recognized over 100 teachers for excellence in elementary science teaching, awarding prizes such as field trips, assemblies, books, and classroom supplies. Information services include comprehensive online resources, monthly email bulletins, quarterly resource reports, newsletters. We hosted two free teacher events in partnership with local science centers, connecting teachers with a range of support organizations and educational service providers, and highlighting resources such as field trips and in-class programs.
