More than 1,100 scholars from around the world attended the meeting, which also featured a film series, an exhibit of leading publishers in the field, a banquet and plenary lecture, sponsored receptions, and interviews for Jewish studies positions. Participation in the conference is highly selective, with a committee of scholars vetting proposals and placing them into sessions. The journal provides an extensive book review section, informing the readership of the most important books in Jewish studies, as well as publishes more substantial inquiries into particular scholarly questions. Published by Cambridge University Press, AJS Review is one of the most widely circulated publications in the field of Jewish studies. The fall 2016 issue and spring 2017 issues included more than a dozen articles and review essays, and numerous book reviews. All AJS members receive a subscription to the journal.
