Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

SASB envisions a world where all forms of capital are accounted for and managed. With SASB industry-specific standards in place, companies compete and improve performance on the sustainability issues that matter most and investors drive capital to the most sustainable outcomes. SASB defines sustainability as environmental, social and governance factors that have the potential to affect long-term value creation and/or are in the public's interest. SASB is accomplishing this through intensive evidence-based research of material issues within industry, convening industry working groups to establish accounting metrics, partnering with the accounting profession to develop auditing protocols, and providing education with regard to recognition and accounting of material non-financial issues.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

SASB is not affiliated with FASB, GASB, IASB or any other accounting standards boards SASBs mission is a natural evolution in the history of corporate reporting The Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 led to the formation of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), which Congress empowered to require and oversee corporate disclosure This historic move, coupled with the creation of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) in 1973, led to establishing financial reporting standards and disclosure requirements aimed at protecting investors and the public

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

SASB is continuing the tradition of disclosure to identify and inform investors of material information, and extending it environmental, social and governance factors. Sustainability accounting standards are intended as a complement to financial accounting standards, such that financial fundamentals and sustainability fundamentals can be evaluated side by side to provide a complete view of a corporation's performance. During the year ended December 31, 2017, SASB was the recipient of certain pro-bono and in-kind services which amounted to $568,880. These in-kind amounts have been excluded from revenues and expenses in the tax return in accordance with instructions from the Internal Revenue Service.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X FIN48 Footnote	Income Taxes Financial statement presentation follows the recommendations of ASC 740, Income Taxes. Under ASC 740, SASB is required to report information regarding its exposure to various tax positions taken by the organization and requires a two-step process that separates recognition from measurement. The first step is determining whether a tax position has met the recognition threshold, the second step is measuring a tax position that meets the recognition threshold. Management believes that SASB has adequately evaluated its current tax positions and has concluded that as of December 31, 2017, SASB does not have any uncertain tax positions for which a reserve or an accrual for a tax liability would be necessary. SASB has received notification from the Internal Revenue Service and the State of California that it qualifies for tax-exempt status under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and Section 23701d of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. This exemption is subject to periodic review by the federal and state taxing authorities and management is confident that the organization continues to satisfy all federal and state statutes in order to qualify for continued tax exemption status. SASB may periodically receive unrelated business income such as sublease rent requiring the organization to file separate tax returns under federal and state statutes. Under such conditions, SASB calculates and accrues the applicable taxes payable.
