Name: Center for US Global Leadership

Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Field Program In 2017, the Center continued its efforts to engage business, faith-based, civic, military, academic, and community leaders in its efforts throughout the country. The Center involved thousands of individuals in educational events, both large and small, to discuss the importance of America's development and diplomatic programs.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

National Program The Center works to educate and engage opinion leaders, policymakers and the public about the importance of America's smart power tools of development and diplomacy In 2017, the Center focused on educating and engaging the Administration, members of Congress and other opinion leaders on the smart power agenda The Center hosted widely attended educational events in Washington, DC and across the country, hosted its annual conference and tribute event, and held dozens of high-level meetings and policy discussions The Center also continued to expand its outreach into the military community, through the continued growth of its National Security Advisory Council and Veterans for Smart Power initiative In addition, the Center launched its newest initiative, Innovations in Smart Power, which aims to highlight advances and innovations in global development

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

Public Education In addition to engaging a broad following of supporters through its website and other social media tools including Facebook, Twitter and YouTube, the Center consistently provided user-friendly content on its website. The Center complemented its new media outreach through more traditional media, by placing dozens of opinion-editorials in a variety of state and national media publications, and by gaining earned media through events and other journalist engagements.

Facts And Circumstances Test

990 Schedule A, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part II, Section C, Line 17a Facts and Circumstances Test	The Center qualifies as a publicly supported organization under the facts and circumstances test set forth in Treas. Reg. 1.170A-9T(F)(3). The Center's public support exceeded the 10% threshold for public charities. Moreover, the Center's ongoing program of solicitations, its sources of support, its governing body and the programs it conducts all demonstrate sufficient public support to meet the facts and circumstances test. The Center continues to meet with many of the nation's largest foundations and corporations to cultivate relationships that will lead to financial support. The ongoing fundraising efforts are expected to raise the public support percentage in future years. Its current sources of support include a variety of private foundations, public charities, businesses and individuals. The Center's public support is further demonstrated by its governing body, which represents the broad interest of the general public. Directors and officers include executives from large national corporations, public charities, and foundations, which bring specialized knowledge and experience to international relations, economic development, education, global security, and civic leadership. The center provides programs to the general public on a continuing basis, including events in 2017 in a variety of states around the country, which drew thousands of people. Participants and attendees include members of Congress, state legislators, former governors, retired military leaders, journalists, international affairs experts, and other civic leaders and members of the public with specialized expertise in the subject of the U.S. global engagement.

990 Schedule O, Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 3	The Center has a contractual agreement with an independent contractor, Schrayer & Associates, Inc , to provide strategic, program, management, and fundraising services to the Center. Schrayer & Associates assigns various employees to provide such services, including Elizabeth Schrayer, who serves as the Center's President & CEO. Other functions provided by Schrayer & Associates include administrative, operational and communications support. To determine whether its payments to Schrayer & Associates are reasonable and appropriate, the Center evaluates the rates charged for comparable management services provided by similar consulting firms to other non profit organizations of similar size, scope and purpose. Additionally, the Center examines the costs and impact of acquiring such services in-house, versus purchasing the services from an external firm. This analysis is conducted annually as part of the budget process.
