Return Reference	Explanation
PART II, LINE 17A	The Society has an annual appeal process that generates most of its annual contributions. Over the past few years the Society received a few large contributions and bequests that are not expected to reoccur. These gifts coupled with higher than expected investment return resulted in a lower than expected contribution percentage. The Society expects the annual fund contribution component to grow resulting in a steady increase in the percentage of contributions from the general public.
