Additional Grant Program Information	Form 990-PF, Part XV, Line 2A	The George Gund Foundation is rooted in Cleveland, the community that was the home of its founder and that remains the Foundation's home. The Foundation's commitment to Cleveland derives not just from our history but also from our belief that Cleveland can continue to develop original responses to issues that can benefit people everywhere. Our focus on Cleveland offers an important point of leverage to affect issues that go well beyond the city's boundaries and includes its roles as a place for innovation and an example and a leader in Ohio, which is a politically important state that can wield outsized influence nationally and, therefore, globally.Moreover, the urban emphasis of our work stems from a belief that thriving cities are and will remain one of the nation's best hopes for addressing essential issues. We invest in this place with an eye toward building the sense of community locally, nationally, and globally that human progress requires. We commit to this for the long term, working alongside those who are making concrete progress.Our program areas reflect major fields of activity that continually intersect and overlap. We work together internally as we assess grant requests and we strive for collaborative and meaningful relationships with partners. We also collaborate on issues with grantees and others in ways that go beyond making grants. We assist, convene, highlight, and advocate when it is appropriate. The Foundation supports the following program areas: Climate and environmental justice. We support the use of Cleveland's unique environmental history and leadership, especially regarding water, to advance a healthy and sustainable future. In particular, we focus on projects and policies that contribute to the fight against climate change. Linked to every aspect of life, climate change increasingly threatens human lives. We support organizations led by and serving communities of color and others who historically have been underrepresented and are the most vulnerable to the effects of climate change. We support organizations that develop and advocate for public policy on climate change and to advance clean energy, transportation, water, and air. We invest in organizations that work to mitigate climate change by promoting sustainable land use, creation of accessible green spaces in Cleveland, environmental justice and the ability of all to live in a safe and healthy environment.Creative culture and arts. We promote a vibrant, diverse, and thriving arts community in Cleveland that enhances learning, strengthens pride of place, creates an emotional connection to our environment, and deepens the impact of opportunities for those who might otherwise be denied them. We seek to balance support among Cleveland's legacy institutions and smaller, emerging organizations that reflect the full breadth of our culture and neighborhoods. We promote equity by helping to fortify organizations led by and serving people of color who have been historically underrepresented. We support the Cleveland Metropolitan School District's plan to help students realize their full creative and intellectual potential through rich artistic experiences. And we encourage integrating the creative thought, energy, and inspiration that art can spark into the civic dialogue and sense of community that are needed to make progress on the complex issues that confront us. Public education. We support public education because it is fundamental to American democracy. It promotes the common good, brings together children and families across different cultures, and serves all students, regardless of means, ability, or circumstances. We believe in the premise and power of public education and we work to ensure every child in Cleveland attends a high-quality school and every neighborhood has a multitude of great schools from which families can choose. We work primarily with the Cleveland Metropolitan School District and its partners to support schools that inspire joy and creativity, build resilience and character, impart and elicit knowledge, and produce just, kind, and engaged citizens ready for college, career, and civic life. We are committed to the values of racial and economic justice and to overcoming the continuing issue of segregated schools and communities. We support advocacy for sound and consistent statewide policy that furthers our work and mitigates the effects of poverty on learning.Thriving families and social justice. Historic barriers to opportunity for both individuals and families must be removed to fully realize human potential. We strive toward a more just community and society that eliminate the conditions that create human need or limit fundamental rights. Consequently, we invest in growth and development opportunities for historically marginalized people at critical life junctures, such as pre-natal and early childhood, adolescence, young adulthood, and when entering the workforce or forming a family. We support public policies that reduce poverty, that strengthen family economic stability, and that secure equitable access to basic human needs such as food, shelter, and health care particularly primary, behavioral, and reproductive. We pursue equitable treatment for both juveniles and adults in the civil and criminal justice systems plagued by racial disparities. We promote fair tax and fiscal policies which establish the framework for all public investment and the equitable use of data to accurately reflect the lived experience of society's most marginalized populations. Vibrant neighborhoods and inclusive economy. We support work to achieve inclusive growth and opportunity for all of Cleveland's neighborhoods and residents. City neighborhoods are essential to our regional economy as the largest concentrations of employers and employees, as talent magnets, and as places where the exchange of ideas and insights can flourish. City neighborhood density, walkability, bike-ability, and access to transit help to fight climate change. The people who live in the neighborhoods are essential participants in the strong regional team needed to compete in the global economy. Too often, however, barriers to opportunity such as lack of quality jobs, racial segregation, concentrated poverty, and underinvestment in diverse entrepreneurs block progress. We support those who are working to eliminate such barriers through collaborative economic and community development efforts, including advocacy for policy change.The George Gund Foundation limits capital grants for construction or renovation to projects that seek U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification.
