NCHE supports teachers by providing professional development. The colloquium model draws upon the expertise of historians, education specialists, and master teachers and emphasizes the goals and priorities of the teachers served. In 2019 the U.S. Department of Education awarded NCHE a Presidential and Congressional Academies for American History and Civics grant to provide innovative professional development in American history, civics, government, and geography for teachers in the School District of Osceola County, Florida over three years. 75 history teachers take part in this comprehensive professional learning program, and this year they worked with historians, education specialists, and master teachers at webinars, Saturday seminars, colloquia, and field studies to historic places. Through the Library of Congress Teaching with Primary Sources Program, NCHE has also provided online colloquia, courses, and webinars, with in-person colloquia planned. In addition to colloquia funded through our own grants, we provide professional development for other grant recipients. We currently work with the Kentucky Educational Development Corporation's Presidential Academy, funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Education. In Kentucky, NCHE offers a five-day professional development colloquium annually, as well as an institute for 150 students and a bus tour for teachers. This program explores the Constitution in the context of various time periods throughout U.S. history and annually serves 70-100 teachers, who reach over 10,000 students.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

NCHE fosters collaboration and collegiality through our annual conference, which brings together over 400 teachers, academics, and individuals engaged in public history. At the conference, teachers learn from each other by sharing their work in breakout sessions, and vendors feature their materials in our exhibit hall. Also included are keynote addresses by high-profile speakers and special workshops designed to address issues that are relevant to current trends in the teaching and learning of history. The conference host city varies annually, enabling NCHE to draw upon and highlight the rich local history in many regions across the United States.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c:

As an organization that strives to support teachers, NCHE provides members (65% of whom are classroom teachers) with various materials and opportunities to enrich their work and support their students' ability to think historically. NCHE members receive our digital newsletter, History Matters!, ten times per year. History Matters! features practical methods for application in the classroom, links teachers with historical sites, and provides updates and information about current trends in the discipline. NCHE members are also part of the Time Travelers Network, giving them discounts and other special offers at historical societies, sites, and museums around the country. The NCHE Career Center enables members to create a profile and locate potential employment, and the Members Only section of the website provides access to NCHE's archives, including past publications.

Schedule D, Part X, Line 2	The Organization is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"), except to the extent it has unrelated business income. Should the Organization engage in activities unrelated to the purpose for which it was created, taxable income could result. In addition, the Organization has been determined by the Internal Revenue Service not to be a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Code. For the year ended June 30, 2021, the Organization had no net unrelated business income. Accordingly, no provision for income tax has been provided in the accompanying financial statements. GAAP requires the evaluation of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing the Organization's tax returns to determine whether the tax positions are more likely than not of being sustained by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions not deemed to meet the more likely than not threshold would be recorded as a tax benefit or expense in the current year. A reconciliation is not provided herein, as the beginning and ending amounts of unrecognized benefits are zero, with no interim additions, reductions, or settlements. The Organization is relying on its tax-exempt status and its adherence to all applicable laws and regulations to preserve that status. However, the conclusions regarding accounting for uncertainty in income taxes will be subject to review and may be adjusted at a later date based on factors
