Client Note 1	Client Note 1 - Headwaters Economics 2021 Form 990 Accomplishments Headwaters Economics staff delivered more than 50 public talks, briefings, and presentations to the public, elected officials, agencies, and others throughout the year. Twelve newsletters were published in 2021. In addition, Headwaters Economics produced original research, data visualizations, and reports on topics core to its mission. Equity Disadvantaged populations are more likely to experience adverse social, health, and economic outcomes due to race, age, gender, poverty status, and other socioeconomic measures. In addition, understanding the impacts of climate change is important to reducing vulnerabilities and building resilient communities and economies. Projects in 2021 included: Hosted, updated, and maintained Neighborhoods at Risk our free, online climate-risk planning tool that illuminates where populations may be particularly vulnerable to climate change. Produced tutorial videos explaining how to use Neighborhoods at Risk. Produced a report about how benefit cost analyses, required for many federal funding programs, put smaller, rural, and low-income communities at a disadvantage. Created visualizations and a report about the unequal impacts of wildfire, highlighting places where wildfire risk intersects social and economic factors that can make it more difficult to prepare for, respond to, and recover from wildfires. Outdoor Recreation & Public Lands Public lands and access to trails and outdoor recreation are important to local economies, attracting businesses and drawing in new residents and visitors. Our research analyzes the scope and scale of the outdoor recreation economy and how communities can benefit from trails and protected lands. Projects in 2021 included: Produced data visualizations and a report with the latest data about the outdoor recreation economy in every state. Wrote a report on the future of the outdoor recreation economy. Measured and developed a dashboard showing trail use in southwest Montana's Bridger Mountains. Wrote a report about the various ways national monuments boost local economies. Hosted and upgraded user interfaces for three free, web-based tools for federal land management agencies, including the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service Socioeconomic Profile Tool, the Bureau of Land Management Socioeconomic Profile Tool, and the National Forest Socioeconomic Profile Tool. These tools are designed to help government agency land managers, economists, planners, citizens, and others explore socioeconomic conditions near federal land management units. Economic Development As the economy changes, understanding major drivers of change is critical to making sound decisions about how to improve economic performance. Projects in 2021 included: Hosted and updated the online Economic Profile System (EPS) with the latest statistics from federal data sources. This free online tool produces customized socioeconomic reports for communities, counties, states, and regions. Conducted original research on the increasing costs of housing and impacts to renters during the COVID-19 pandemic. Tax Policy Tax policies create incentives and disincentives. Our research helps local leaders and state and federal policymakers understand their long-term impacts. Projects in 2021 included: Wrote a report comparing how states use federal fossil fuel disbursements. Conducted an analysis and report on opportunities for New Mexico to diversify revenue from state trust lands. Convened a working group and hosted three workshops to explore fiscal policies for climate adaptation. Produced a report highlighting how state and local government budgets are vulnerable to climate change. Natural Hazards Wildfires, floods, and other climate-related disasters are becoming more extensive and costly as the climate changes. Our research helps communities understand where people may be vulnerable and how to reduce risk. Projects in 2021 included: Provided technical assistance to four communities to help improve land use planning strategies to reduce wildfire risk: Estes Park, CO; Douglas County, OR; Grand County, CO; and San Mateo County, CA. Provided technical assistance to four communities to help reduce flood risk: Three Forks, MT; Glendive, MT; Williston, ND; and Manhattan, KS. Created a new report featuring updated wildfire risk data in our Economic Profile System. Produced a video featuring wildfire experts, Living with Wildfire. Maintained, expanded, and updated the Wildfire Risk to Communities tool and website in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service. Developed tutorial videos demonstrating how to use the site. Produced a report showing how rural and lower-capacity communities failed to successfully compete for FEMA funding in 2020. Produced a report announcing the development of our program to support communities with flood risk reduction featuring our pilot community, Three Forks, MT. Maintained and updated websites for our wildfire and flooding technical assistance programs (Community Planning Assistance for Wildfire and FloodWise Communities).
