In addition, through annual retreats, the boys and girls interact with staff, peers and professionals from different fields who guide and motivate them on life skills and careers. Students who graduate from high school are also able to attend the Daystar University Leadership program which builds skills for success in college and in the workplace. The goal of the program is to educate and graduate young, responsible and competent adults who will positively influence their communities. In 2022, the program supported 23 students through their year of education and saw 2 graduate from their college studies.

The majority of the members are small scale traders and farmers engaged in different businesses. In 2022, Pangea was able to train 173 women in life and business skills throughout the year and provided business mentorship for 478 women already in the network, along with revolving funds for small business growth. The program provides an opportunity for young women to gain the tools necessary to get them successfully to and through college and into the workplace. This is a year-long program that starts with a summer intensive conference and followed by monthly meetings. During 2022, the program was delivered as a hybrid, in-person and virtual due to the enduring unknowns with the pandemic. The project first engaged community leaders and stakeholders to hear their perspectives on the topic and issues affecting young girls and ensure the community was ready to support these efforts. The team then invited parents and guardians to trainings to share the program and hear from them what they see the issues are and get their support for beginning dialogue around the topic with their children and others. The team also trained 15 local Peer Educators to assist in the trainings. The team worked with these young women for a year through December 2022.
