The Resilient Adaptation program focuses on creating tangible, action-oriented projects that address community priorities in response to climate change and sea level rise, ranging from contributions to city-wide adaptation and resilience planning to interventions for individual residents and families. An important focus for CRCs work in FY 22-23 has been our effort to expand the capacity and leadership of environmental justice community-based organizations across the Bay Area.

Resilient Education Program: aims to increase awareness and understanding of climate change and its impacts in frontline communities, particularly among youth. The program has two main components: the EarthWise Kids curriculum and a Youth Climate Collective Fellowship program. In FY 22-23, we launched the inaugural Youth Climate Collective (YCC). We provided opportunities for youth to explore, learn, and engage with environmentalism through hands-on field trips and activities. Our first cohort explored the myriad of ways that environmental justice organizations are tackling the climate change crisis, in a series of 9 workshops.
