4a	(Code:) (Expenses $ 43,753,523 including grants of $ 26,480,552) (Revenue $ 205,143)
Santa Monica Community Office: Funded through grants from the City of Santa Monica, this office provides legal services to residents of Santa Monica only. They staff a domestic violence clinic at the court and offer regular housing clinics. Attorneys work with local agencies and city services to provide family law, housing, government benefit and immigration services. This office closed 789 cases in 2024.Restoring Communities: Addresses the core legal needs of communities impacted by the criminal justice system by providing direct legal services to remove barriers to reentry to society, including employment barriers, by providing community education, working with community partners to offer holistic services, and engaging in systemic change to support the restoration of impacted communities. Holistic legal services provided by the Restoring Communities Work Group include record clearing, occupational license denial challenges and assistance with family law, housing, government benefits, fair chance ordinance violations and other legal needs. In 2024, LAFLA closed 2,281 cases in these areas of law.Veterans Justice Center: Provides holistic, trauma-informed legal support to low-income, homeless, and at-risk veterans, regardless of discharge status or length of service. Its experienced, culturally competent staff-supported by hundreds of pro bono volunteers-help veterans secure life-sustaining income, health, and housing benefits; prevent homelessness by fighting wrongful evictions; remove employment barriers; clear criminal records; and advocate for discharge upgrades.Through deep partnerships with Veterans Affairs, veteran service organizations, and community agencies, VJC combines outreach, needs assessment, education, and direct legal services to close the justice gap for veterans. In 2024, VJC closed 450 cases, and in 2024, it assisted 867 veterans with a wide range of legal issues, including housing, benefits, family law, and more. By leveraging a multidisciplinary team and robust data systems, VJC delivers high-impact, sustainable results, helping veterans achieve lasting stability, dignity, and opportunity. Asian & Pacific Islander Community Outreach Project: Provides legal help in all areas of practice including family law, immigration, housing, and government benefits in a wide range of API languages, including Korean, Mandarin, Cantonese, Japanese, Khmer, Vietnamese, Tagalog/Filipino, and Thai. LAFLA's API Work Group advocates for language rights in civil courts, administrative proceedings, and other government agencies for clients with limited-English proficiency. This program closed 904 cases in 2024.Medical-Legal Partnership (MLP): This LAFLA special project embeds legal clinics within medical facilities to allow healthcare and legal professionals to identify and help patients reach their optimal health. The MLP team strives to provide high-quality, holistic legal assistance and representation across 6 health sites including TCC Family Health, Martin Luther King Jr. Outpatient Center, Rancho Los Amigos National Rehabilitation Center, Long Beach Comprehensive Health Center, Community Medical Wellness Centers USA, and PPLA Inglewood Community Center's Black Health Initiative. Through this project, anyone from the above-mentioned medical care teams can refer patients to our attorneys as part of a comprehensive approach to improve health outcomes by addressing social determinants of health such as poor housing conditions, long-term health planning, loss of denial of public benefits, issues with immigration, problems at work, or violence within the household. In 2024, MLP closed 839 cases. Unhoused People's Justice Project: This project engages in impact litigation and policy work to combat the criminalization of homelessness, and to ensure the civil rights of unhoused people are protected. This program closed 11 cases in 2024. Self-Help Centers: For over 20 years, LAFLA has partnered with the Los Angeles Superior Court to provide high-quality assistance for self-represented litigants. In 2024, LAFLA's Self-Help Center Workgroup helped over 31,400 litigants access the justice system across its four courthouse-based Self-Help Centers and remote self-help hotline. In-person and hybrid services included free legal information, assistance with court forms in multiple legal areas, and innovative remote tools, all of which empowered litigants through complex court systems.Legal VictoriesLAFLA achieved the following legal victories in 2024:Civil Rights for Unhoused People 1: The litigation centers on the civil rights of unhoused individuals who are living in tents and makeshift encampments in the City of Los Angeles. The litigation challenges the seizure and destruction of unhoused individuals' belongings. The case challenges the constitutionality of an ordinance in Los Angeles that allows the City to seize and destroy unhoused residents' belongings. Plaintiffs allege that the ordinance violates the Fourth and Fourteenth amendment. They seek declarative relief that the ordinance is unconstitutional, and injunctive relief to prevent the seizure and destruction of property. In 2024, LAFLA and co-counsel Obtained a ruling from the Federal Court that the City of Los Angeles spoliated documents and fabricated evidence related to Plaintiffs' claims and granting leave to Plaintiffs to file a motion for sanctions, following the completion of the forensic examination. Civil Rights for Unhoused People 2: LAFLA represents community organizations that work with unhoused people in Skid Row in an intervention in a lawsuit by property owners against the City of Los Angeles for alleged nuisance conditions that impact all unsheltered individuals in the City. In 2024, Intervenorssuccessfully objected to a proposed revision of the settlement that would have resulted in a significant decrease in the City's obligation to create new shelter and housing units and expedited the City's ability to criminalize homelessness. Following Intervenorss' objections, the City withdrew the proposed bed plan. Intervenorss also successfully argued for a city-wide audit of City-funded homeless services to include the Los Angeles Police Department, in addition to third parties.Economic Stability Work Group (ESWG): LAFLA helped a 62-year-old client with a lifelong intellectual disability to successfully appeal the termination of his federal SSI benefits. We successfully represented this client before a Social Security judge and obtaining a reversal of the termination, establishing that this client was still disabled. This victory included a retroactive award that amounted to nearly $50K in benefits that had been wrongfully withheld from the client over the course of several years. Despite the judge's decision, the local SSA office tasked with implementing the decision then incorrectly sought to deny payment of the retroactive award, claiming without proper notice he was not eligible for a back payment because of a County housing subsidy he had received, and claimed that he had no appeal rights to challenge this determination. LAFLA engaged in informal advocacy to escalate the issue to a regional office within the Social Security Administration, which reversed this mistake, securing this substantial, life-changing back payment to this client.
4b	(Code:) (Expenses $ 4,368,125 including grants of $) (Revenue $)
Housing and Communities and Eviction Defense Workgroup: The Housing & Communities workgroup takes a community lawyering approach to litigation and policy advocacy by supporting tenants and tenant organizations to enforce and enact housing laws. They defend residents of public housing and Section 8 voucher holders against losing their housing or housing subsidy. They also provide legal support to community-based organizations seeking to build healthy, economically vibrant communities. The Eviction Defense Workgroup provides direct representation to low-income individuals and families facing eviction; negotiates with landlords to ensure families can stay in their homes; helps clients living in uninhabitable conditions to get reductions in rent; and empowers tenants to advocate for their tenants' rights, all while working towards a tenants' right to counsel. LAFLA closed 1,612 housing related cases in this area of law in 2024.
4c	(Code:) (Expenses $ 2,347,504 including grants of $) (Revenue $)
Survivor and Family Justice: Helps survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault get restraining orders, divorces, child custody, visitation and support; and secures the return of concealed and abducted children. We deliver on-site family law legal services to survivors at two L.A. Superior Court locations, and we provide virtual appointments for clients staying at domestic violence shelters or receiving services from other community partners. The Workgroup also offers virtual family law clinics for survivors seeking assistance with motion and brief drafting. In 2024, the Workgroup closed domestic violence cases. Immigration Access: Helps survivors of torture and other harms seeking asylum in the United States by representing them before USCIS and EOIR; Represents survivors of domestic violence, human trafficking, sexual assault and other serious crimes to obtain protection and permanent residency; protects vulnerable unaccompanied children throughout the immigration process. In 2024, IAWG opened and assisted approximately 949 clients with their legal matters. These cases included naturalization, asylum, U Visa, VAWA, human trafficking, Special Immigrant Juvenile Status and refugee legal issues. In 2024, IAWG closed 1,043 total cases that addressed these legal issues.
	(Code:) (Expenses $ 1,798,920 including grants of $ 466,878) (Revenue $)
Economic Stability: Assists vulnerable populations in obtaining and maintaining critical safety net benefits that helps them get food, housing, and medical care or services; Fights wage theft, wrongful terminations and discriminatory employment practices; Provides legal representation to disabled Angelenos in the Social Security Disability appeals process through the CBEST program, which assists individuals are homeless or at risk of homelessness in securing vital federal disability benefits; Discharges student loans based on disability or school fraud. In fact, LAFLA is the only legal services organization in the country that, for over 30 years, has consistently sought justice for low-income student loan borrowers and worked to change a higher education system that increasingly ignores the needs and experiences of low-income borrowers. In 2024, ESWG closed 1,112 closed cases in these areas of law.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part IV, Line 2b:	LAFLA holds funds in trust for its clients relating to settlements awarded by the courts and deposits held for filing and other fees.
Part V, Line 4:	Endowment funds are appropriated by the Board for use in current operations.
Part X, Line 2:	LAFLA is exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701d. Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosure guidance about positions taken by an organization in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all positions taken by LAFLA in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. LAFLA's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they filed.

	client finally filed for a DVRO to protect herself and their children. The abuser in response filed for dissolution. UCLA extern law students took on representation of client, supervised by LAFLA attorney, Clara Mora, and UCLA Extern Director, Anne Sidwell. Our team successfully negotiated a stipulation for a 1-year Restraining Order after Hearing (ROAH), which included having the abusive spouse pay the mortgage and other bills for the house while our client and children remained there. Unfortunately, the abusive spouse immediately violated the court's orders and started withdrawing excessive amounts from the parties' joint account. Then he filed another DVRO as well as a Request for Hearing (RFO) asking to change the entire ROAH and requesting mutual restraining orders, plus a separate RFO requesting primary custody of the minor children. LAFLA's attorney drafted the client's Dissolution Response, two Responsive Declaration to the opposing party's RFOs, an ex parte RFO request, a reply to the spouse's DVRO plus a supplemental declaration explaining it all. LAFLA prepared the client for all the hearings.
Form 990, Part III, Line 4a	The court granted an ex parte (emergency) order in our client's favor - allowing client to collect the rent from their tenant's property as compensation for funds taken, ordering the opposing party to pay the electricity bill including back payments owed in full, and to cease withdrawing money from the parties' joint account. The court held a hearing on the opposing party's request for DVRO, denying his request. Our client still has protection from abuse and now has better orders in place preventing her abusive spouse from his continuing financial abuse as she proceeds with her dissolution case. Veterans Justice Center: A dedicated U.S. Navy veteran spent years serving his country with distinction, deploying across the globe to places like Singapore, Thailand, Hong Kong, Australia, Bahrain, and Indonesia. In 2004, he was among the first responders to the devastating tsunami in Indonesia-a mission that left deep, lasting scars. While he endured chronic knee pain and hearing loss, it was the invisible burden of post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) that proved overwhelming. Haunted by traumatic memories and sleepless nights, he found daily life nearly unbearable. Seeking financial support, the veteran applied for VA disability benefits on his own but was awarded only a 20% rating - far too little to support his family. Unable to work due to the severity of his PTSD, he struggled to make ends meet, and his situation grew increasingly desperate. Turning to LAFLA's Veterans Justice Center (VJC) for help, he found a team of advocates who listened, understood, and acted. The VJC staff combed through his service and medical records, uncovering clear evidence that his severe mental health symptoms had begun during his military service. With a compelling case built on thorough documentation and expert advocacy, the VJC presented his claim to the VA. Their efforts paid off. After a comprehensive review, the VA acknowledged the full impact of his PTSD, increasing his disability rating to 50% and raising his total rating to 60%. This resulted in his monthly compensation jumping from $328 to $1,361.88 - a life-changing increase that provided the stability he needed to care for himself and his children. This legal victory not only secured critical financial support but also restored a sense of dignity and hope. Thanks to the expertise and dedication of the Veterans Justice Center, this veteran was empowered to rebuild his life and look forward to a brighter future.
Form 990, Part VI, Section A, line 7a	Pursuant to Legal Services Corporation regulations, most directors are appointed by bar associations or community organizations.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11b	The Form 990 is prepared by an outside accounting firm based on information provided by the Chief Financial Officer; it is then reviewed by the Executive Director, the CFO and the Audit Committee.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 12c	At least annually, the Board of Directors, Officers and staff of LAFLA are required to review LAFLA's Conflict of Interest Policy and complete an annual statement affirming that they have a) received a copy of the Conflict of Interest Policy, b) read and understood the policy, and c) agree to comply with such policy.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 15	The Executive Committee of the Board reviews the compensation of the Executive Director annually. A compensation survey is also conducted of similar organizations. Other organization officers or key employees' compensation is determined by comparability data and a compensation study as well as review by the Board of Directors.
Form 990, Part VI, Section C, line 19	The organization makes the Form 990 available on Guidestar.org and also makes governing documents, conflicts of interest policies and financial statements available to the public upon request.
