What is the organization's primary exempt purpose?

The Boston Women's Health Book Collective, Inc. is a global feminist organization that distills and disseminates health information from the best scientific research available as well as women's life experiences so that individuals and communities can make informed health, reproduction and sexuality decisions.

Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. In a clear and concise manner, describe the services provided, the number of persons benefited, and other relevant information for each program title.

28 OBOS Global Initiative (OBOGI): This program provides technical assistance to translation/adaptation groups worldwide. Resources based on "Our Bodies, Ourselves" (OBOS) are available in 33 languages, including Braille. Translations/cultural adaptations have been published by women from a broad spectrum of cultures and languages and are produced in a wide range of formats for outreach to diverse communities. (Grants $ 0) If this amount includes foreign grants, check here ☒

29 Public Voice and Action (PVA): This program advocates for public policies that promote women's health and well-being. Through publications, online content, and advocacy efforts, BWHBC critiques the excessive medicalization of women's lives as well as the unethical pursuit of profit at the expense of the public's health. BWHBC joins the personal with the political as a means of challenging the institutions and systems that sometimes devalue the lives of women and prevent them from full control over their bodies. Activists, policy makers, members of the media, and others approach BWHBC each year to seek input into public policy matters. (Grants $ 0) If this amount includes foreign grants, check here ☐

30 Produce and update Our Bodies, Ourselves (formerly published in book form) in a digital media platform to provide evidence-based and reliable information using accessible language and tone and include the voices of women and girls to critique cultural, political, corporate, and ideological forces that affect health and sexuality and emphasize individual and collective empowerment. (Grants $ 0) If this amount includes foreign grants, check here ☐
